Introduction

Aanii, Boozhoo,

Welcome to the Sault Ste. Marie Tribe of Chippewa Indians Membership Services brochure. This handout offers an overview of services available to Sault Tribe members, residing both inside and outside the service area.

There are nearly 53,000 enrolled tribal members, many of whom live in the tribe's seven-county service area spanning the Eastern Upper Peninsula. The tribe has landholdings, businesses, housing and health clinics throughout its service area. It provides membership services through the revenue generated by its businesses, grant funding, federal self-governance funds and other sources such as third-party insurance revenue.

Services include social services and victim services; Anishinaabemowin (speaking Ojibwe) language lessons; cultural events and facilities; elder services; health services including medical, pharmacy, behavioral health, community health, traditional medicine and others; home ownership and rentals; treaty fishing, hunting and gathering conservation regulation, enhancement and management; child care and Head Start; after-school youth programming; and recreational opportunities across the tribe's service area, among many others.

Published by Sault Tribe's Communications Dept., this booklet provides an overview of Sault Tribe, an overview of services and contacts for each tribal service division, and a map of Indian Health Services serving members of federally recognized tribes with links throughout the United States. Please call the tribe's main line, (906) 635-6050, or see the tribe's website at www.saulttribe.com, for more information.

Conservation Law Enforcement

Sault Tribe Law Enforcement (STLE) issues all treaty-regulated hunting and fishing licenses across the 1836 Treaty Ceded Territory in northern Michigan.

For forms, applications, maps and reports, go to:

www.saulttribe.com/membership-services/natural-resources/download-files.

License Requirements

Several requirements that apply regardless of the type of license you are requesting: new applicant tribal members must provide a copy of their current tribal card (cannot be expired), reporting requirements must be met and an application is required for each licensing season. Members obtaining their licenses at STLE's window in Sault Ste. Marie are able to use a credit or debit card to pay. Licensing done through the mail requires a check or money order for payment.

Members are strongly encouraged to contact STLE prior to arriving or mailing their application if they have any questions regarding any of the required documents for processing their licensing application.

Great Lakes Subsistence / Gill Net Licenses (Jan. 1 - Dec. 31)

Chapter 20 of tribal law (Tribal Code) and Chippewa Ottawa Resource Authority (CORA) Code regulates these licenses. All subsistence and gill net fishing licenses expire Dec. 31 each year. STLE begins issuing the upcoming year's licenses in mid-December.

Great Lakes subsistence licenses are free of charge; however, if you are applying for a gill net license in addition to the subsistence, and you are between the ages of 17 and 54, please be sure you have a check or money order in the amount of $20 if obtaining your license at Sault Tribe Law Enforcement.

For those requesting subsistence and/or subsistence gill net licenses through the U.S. Mail, ALL applicants must provide $4 for the mailing fee.

By applying for and accepting the Great Lakes subsistence and gill net licenses, you are agreeing to comply with the mandated monthly catch report submission, due by the 10th of each month.

Tribal members are not required to have a subsistence license for recreational fishing on the Great Lakes; members can fish with just their tribal enrollment card (cannot be expired) as long as they follow state rules and regulations.

Great Lakes Commercial Fishing Licenses (Jan. 1 - Dec. 31): Chapter 20 of tribal law (Tribal Code) regulates these licenses. All commercial fishermen are required to contact Sault Tribe Law Enforcement to schedule an appointment when applying for this license.

Inland Hunting and Fishing Licenses (April 1 - March 31): Chapter 21 of tribal law (Tribal Code) regulates these licenses.

All members between the ages of 17 and 59 must pay a fee of $10 in the form of a check or money order. (See license requirements on page 9.) All tribal members born after 1960 who are new applicants for the hunting portion must provide a proof of hunter safety in order to obtain the hunting portion of the license, but are able to obtain just the fishing and gathering portion without hunter safety.

This license has an annual harvest report requirement that is due by Feb. 1 each year with any catch or kill up to that date. This report is also required whether you go hunting or fishing and whether you catch or kill anything while hunting or fishing. We cannot process any current year applications without your harvest report for the prior year. Harvest report forms are available online at saulttribe.com, at STLE, or by contacting the Inland Fish and Wildlife Department.

Housing Authority

The Sault Tribe Housing Authority strives to create and sustain housing programs that strengthen the quality of life, economic self-sufficiency and future growth for the tribal membership. Housing opportunities available within the tribe's seven-county service area include:

Income-Based Rental Program: The income-based Rental Program provides 400-plus rental units on nine housing sites across the seven-county service area. Families are selected using a point-based selection criterion and must meet NA-HASDA income guidelines. Rent is based on 27.5% of the family's adjusted gross income. The Resident Services Department provides training and counseling to improve quality of life and promote self-sufficiency, assisting families to remain in their homes.

Home Ownership Lease to Purchase: Gives the homebuyer an opportunity to achieve ownership of a home in return for fulfilling the homebuyer's obligations to make monthly payments based on an amortization of the purchase price, to provide all maintenance of the home and to satisfy all other program requirements. It is a lease with the option to purchase. This program is designed to have the home paid off in 15 to 30 years. Payments are based on the value of the home. No down payment required; participant may secure a traditional mortgage and purchase the home outright any time during the contract.

Rental Assistance Voucher Program: Provides rental subsidies to income-qualified, working families or families with a steady income. The family is subsidized, not the unit. Families are required to pay 27.5% of their adjusted gross income to the landlord and the voucher will pay the remaining rent up to fair market rent.

The Homeownership Department: Provides counseling and resources in an effort to reach the goal of homeownership. The department provides information on mortgage products, assistance with credit repair and advocates on behalf of tribal members with banks and credit unions.

Down Payment Assistance: Assists Sault Tribe members to become homeowners of a structurally sound home for the first time. Each member selected could receive up to $9,500 or 20% of the purchase price. The member must secure a mortgage and contribute $500. The applicant's income must not exceed 80% of the Median Income for the Area and must be no less than $25,000 annually. The total housing cost, at the time of selection, for the home must not exceed more than 30% of the applicant's income.

Individual Development Account Program Zhaabwiiigedaa - Let's Save

An Individual Development Account (IDA) program is a slow track homeownership program, designed to help participants who may not be able to finance a home in the immediate short term due to credit issues. Participants in the program will make monthly savings deposits of $75 for 12 to 36 months. Participants' savings deposits are matched at a rate equal to $10,000 with the maximum match of $7,300 per participant.

Sanitation: Provides funding through Indian Health Services (IHS) for individual water and sewer services and community connections to municipal services. Each eligible member selected could receive up to $50,500 in sanitation services; this program is a once-in-a-lifetime service. There is no income eligibility requirement for this program.

Home Improvement Program: Provides funding through the Bureau of Indian Affairs (BIA) to assist Sault Tribe members in need of repairs and renovation to off-reservation homes in the tribe's seven-county service area. The goal is to provide housing for the neediest Indian families living in substandard housing and having no other recourse for assistance.

Home Rehabilitation Program: Provides rehabilitation services for Sault Tribe members who privately own homes both on and off reservation.

Standards of Assistance

Level I – Not to exceed $10,000 per applicant/household; eligible applicants may receive assistance no more than every 5 years. (See www.saulttribehousing.com for allowable repairs.)

Furnace and Water Heater Replacement Program: The Owner-Occupied Rehab Program assists Sault Tribe members to replace substandard heating systems and water heaters. The funds are distributed to applicants who meet the eligibility criteria and who have demonstrated a need based on an emergency situation. Each eligible member selected could receive up to $8,500 per household. This program may be accessed by tribal homeowners every 20 years. Each applicant may be served once.

Language & Culture

Anishinaabemowin miinwaa Bimaadiziwin – Language and Culture Division

Language and Culture plays a critical role in preserving and promoting Anishinaabemowin (our language) and Bimaadiziwin (our life ways and culture). The division provides tribal members the opportunity to learn and engage with these vital aspects of our heritage, ensuring we preserve them for future generations.

Anishinaabemowin “The Sound of our Ojibwe Language”

In Unit I, the division runs an after-school language immersion program for grade school children, immersing them in language around daily activities like cooking, sewing, beadwork, and even cleaning, while building language skills around these tasks. The division offers virtual and online learning platforms, allowing tribal members anywhere to participate in live virtual computer classes with Anishinaabe instructors. Over 150 recorded language lessons are archived and available for members to access. Pre-recorded lessons are posted each week on Facebook. Virtual Anishinaabemowin language classes are:

– Every Wednesday, 6-8 p.m. EST with Paul Blondeau and Susan Askwith: www.tinyurl.com/susanpaul or (312) 626-6799 (Meeting ID 926 5838 7956; Passcode 631691)

– Every Thursday, 10 a.m.-12 p.m. EST with Yvette Pitawanakwat and Cecil Pavlat: www.tinyurl.com/shirleycecil or (946) 558-8656 (Meeting ID 951 9196 1173; Passcode 346018)

Anishinaabeg Edinokiiwad: “Where Anishinaabe Work”

Located on Sugar Island in the middle of the St. Mary’s River, Mary Murray Culture Camp is a 2-story structure on 40 acres of woodland. Tribal members of all ages can participate in activities such as making maple syrup, building canoes, making hominy, crafting, exploring trails on snowshoes, or learning winter survival techniques.

Niigaanagiizhik “Leading the Day” Ceremonial Community Center

In the 1980s, tribal elders recognized the need for a place to practice our ceremonial ways and strongly advocated for building this center on the Sault Ste. Marie reservation. The ceremonial building has become a busy place over the years with activities such as traditional funerals, naming ceremonies, baby showers, graduations, weddings, clan feasts, seasonal ceremonies, fundraisers and spirit feasts.

Bimadaziiwin “Our Way of Life”

The staff plans and facilitates powwows and assists with others. Other cultural events include the annual snow snake competition, Anishinaabe language conference, seasonal ceremonies, annual community jiiibay (spirit) feast, winter storytelling nights, and teaching traditional skills with at least two workshops a month across the service area.

Tribal Court

The Tribal Court provides equitable and expedient resolution of conflict by the impartial administration of justice to ensure a safe community through strengthening our families and reducing crime. In doing so, Tribal Court offers many rehabilitative and evidence-based services to its members and the community. Programs include:

Gwaiak Miicon Healing to Wellness Court (Drug Court): This program is designed to enhance public safety and the quality of our tribal community, by reducing the abuse of alcohol and other drugs by tribal and community members, and by providing intensive treatment and court supervision for individuals who admit guilt to drug- or alcohol-related offenses. By holding participants accountable for their actions and providing them with intensive services, participants are provided with the tools to lead drug-free, crime-free, productive lives.

Domestic Violence Court: This court-ordered program is a specialized docket within the Tribal Court and is designed to ensure accountability to men who are abusive to their intimate partner and to enhance victim safety.

Men's Education Group: Using the Duluth Model approach, this group is a framework for addressing domestic violence for men who batter, and focuses on changing their beliefs and behaviors to achieve nonviolent and equal partnerships with their significant other. Use of tools such as the Power and Control Wheel, help participants recognize their violent tactics and take responsibility for their actions. The program lasts an average of 30 weeks where the individuals attend group weekly.

Moral Reconciliation Therapy (MRT): MRT is a cognitive behavioral treatment system that uses workbooks, group discussions, and individual counseling to improve moral reasoning, decision-making and self-awareness to promote prosocial behavior and reduce recidivism in individuals with addiction and criminal behavior. The program lasts an average of 26 weeks where the individuals attend group weekly.

Juvenile Justice Diversion: Designed to redirect our youth from criminal behavior and further consequences outside the formal court system, while providing necessary support and services to reduce reoffending. Diversion services to address the youth's needs by using community-based interventions and restorative justice practices instead of traditional court processes.
